DETAILED ACTION

The amendment and remarks filed 10/17/05 have been acknowledged and entered.

The rejections under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) over Hanson et al. stated in paper No. 070705 have been withdrawn in view of applicant's amendment and remarks.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1, 3-5, 7-8, 10-12, and 14-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 1 and 7, "greater than about", and in claim 5, line 2, "above about" and in claim 12, line 2, "greater than about" are indefinite term. See the rejections stated in paper No.030104 and 082404.

1. A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claim s 1, 7, and 12 recites the broad recitation greater than, and the claim also recites about which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation.

2. A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claim 5, line 2 recites the broad recitation above, and the claim also recites about which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1, 3-5, 7-8, 10-12, and 14-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nagamura et al. (6,071,376).

Re claims 1, 4-5, 7-8, 11-12, 14-17, Nagamura et al. disclose a method and apparatus for cleaning a photomask to be used in the photolithography step in the process for the production of semiconductor integrated circuit device. The reference discloses treating the photomask by contacting with a solution comprising ammonium hydroxide, hydrogen peroxide and water, agitating the solution by using ultrasonic, and the multiple number of cleaning cycles, and the photomasks (claims 1, 7), the temperature (claims 4, 11), The pH (claims 5, 12), and the limitation of claims 8, 14-17. See col. 1, lines 13-20, lines 28-33, 49-55, col. 2, lines 22-33, 40-62, col. 4, lines 17-48, col. 8, lines 28-35, col. 9, lines 1-51, Figs. 5-6, and the document in general. Removing particles and residues greater than about 0.2 microns is inherent in Nagamura et al. process. Re claims 1, 7, Nagamura et al. as discussed supra do not teach the ratio and the number of cleaning cycles as claimed.

It would have been obvious for one skilled in the art to adjust the ratio and number of cleaning cycles to obtain optimum results. The number of cleaning cycles depends on the amount of the particles and the residues on the photomasks.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 10/17/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's argument with respect to the ratio and the number of multiple cleaning cycles is unpersuasive, because one skilled in the art would adjust the concentration ratio, and the number of cleaning cycles to obtain optimum results.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
